

SUSTAINABLE CORPORATE TRAVEL? COUNT US IN, SAYS ASIA PACIFIC (APAC) STAKEHOLDERS

What is sustainable travel?

Make informed travel choices

Track and manage results

Demonstrate environmental impact measurably

As Covid-19 restrictions lift, travel is returning to APAC

50%

back to pre-pandemic volume of international travel

70%

back to pre-pandemic volume of domestic travel

76% of APAC organisations are passionate in enabling sustainable corporate travel

39%

has all stakeholders engaged

61%

say they need help in implementation

Barriers to attaining a sustainable corporate travel programme

Lack of budget

37%

Lack of employee engagement

32%

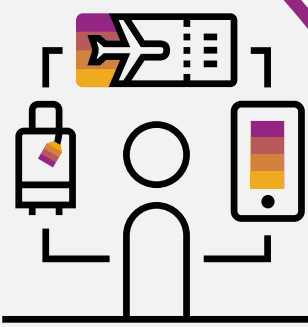

Lack of flexibility and adaptability of policy

31%

Lack of professional tools to visualise environmental impact of travel

31%

What benefits do organisations expect from a sustainable travel programme?

Increased operational efficiency

70%

Positive brand awareness and reputation externally

67%

Reduce costs

66%

How to travel sustainably?

Adjusting travel policies to switch to alternative modes of travel

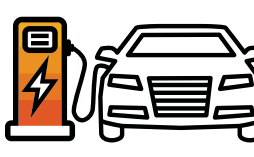

30%

Encourage employees to use train over plane

39%

No current policy to use train but will push for change

Promotion of the use of electric vehicles

30%

Reimburse employees for EV charging costs all the time

35%

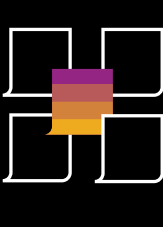

Reimburse in some cases

71% Most organisations know they need to harness technology to effectively become sustainable

38%

already have software in place to support corporate travel and expense management

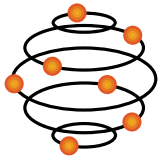

33%

plan to acquire such software very soon

Taking Action

Adjust policies to equip travellers to make sustainable choices

Harness technology to see your impact, so you can improve it

Prove your commitment to all your constituents

The SAP Concur APAC Sustainable Business Travel Survey, conducted by Consulting Group – Asia Insight, covered senior and mid-level managers in Corporate Travel, Finance, HR, Procurement and Sustainability residing in Australia, China, India, Malaysia, Singapore and South Korea. There were 648 respondents in total (slightly over 100 per market). Organisation headcount breakdown: 1,000 and above: 49%; 500-999: 25% and 100-499: 26%.

To find out more about how to implement sustainable corporate travel, please download the white paper or contact us here.